COQUINA

If you are looking to add resilience and beauty to your next hardscape project, then look no further. With the classic Coquina texture from the Bomanite Imprint Systems collection, you can add sophistication and style to any new or existing hardscape surface. Great for patios and pool deck surrounds, Coquina by Bomanite has the appearance of a random blend of sea shells over a background similar to a travertine or coarse rock salt finish. Light in texture with moderate depth of relief and no veining, Coquina is typically installed as a continuous texture or in tiles with fine grout lines.

Only Bomanite cast-in-place architectural concrete provides the beauty of natural paving with the durability and affordability of concrete. With more than 200 creative patterns and an endless palette of colors, Bomanite offers an unmatched range of innovative design options to turn ordinary concrete paving and flooring into something extraordinary.
